¹Species is much more common in Bear Canyon

Most species have been observed on main grounds and around the native plant gardens of Randall Davey Audubon Center and Sanctuary.

This checklist is generated with data from eBird.org, a global database of bird sightings from birders like you. Anyone can participate in this free, community science project.

This compiled checklist is not a complete list of all birds seen at the Center during any given year. Some species are only seen seasonally or for small periods due to their migration and nesting behaviors.

Check the online eBird hotspot for the most up to date sightings.
